Viewers of Optics

The observation of an occurrence through an optical instrument puts the observer in the position of being able to follow the course of events from a (usually safe) distance. Viewers of Optics is about such an eye-witness report.